PLENTY OF MUD AROUND AUSTIN

This week has been practically a duplicate of last week as regards weather, with the exception that it has been even more so, says the Reese River Reville. Beginning with the ground almost had and roads good, a snowfall of about six inches came, followed by warm weather, which sent the snow away in a hurry, wetting the ground still more and making the roads very muddy and hard to travel. A drying wind was getting the roads in shape again when another snow storm came Thursday and started the whole thing over again. It has been a severe ending of a very mild winter, and these late snows, coming after the ground had thawed, have wet the ground deep and give assurance of an abundance of feed on the range for the coming season.

The storms have, of course, been a little rough on range stock, but this will be more than compensated for by the good feed as soon as the warm weather brings out the green grass, which on some southern exposures is already from four to six inches tall. There being a limited amount of snow stored in the high mountains, the irrigating season for hay land is expected to close early, but with the thorough wetting these late storms have given the soil the hay should, if the sun shines plenty during April and May, have a start which will enable it to stand a shortage of water for late irrigation and advance the haying season very materially.

OLD AUSTIN JUSTICE DIES IN LOS ANGELES

A J. Maestrotti, of Austin, has received news of the death at a sanatorium in Los Angeles of L. A. Wheeler, for many years justice of the peace in Austin. About six years ago failing health made it necessary for the judge to go to a milder climate and with his wife he moved to southern California. A year or so ago Mrs. Wheeler died.

STAR ROUTE CARRIER HAS PLENTY TROUBLE

George McGinness, who drives the Haver which carries the mail between Austin and Tonopah, met up with a run of bad luck on his trip down Thursday. Something went wrong with his piling apparatus and he burned the habit out of a connecting rod; the road was rough and the snow falling and the wind blowing a gale, and he hit a bump and broke a spring or two, and though he brought the mail in on time, the machine had to go in the dry dock for general repairs. A substitute machine made the Saturday trip for him.

GUNNER GETS AFTER WHITE

"Vast heaving for a minute, me hearties and make way for recruiting officer, W. E. Yeager, says the Reno Journal.

While on a naval recruiting tour to Tonopah and Goldfield, the afore-said chief gunner's mate, who is likewise an expert submarine torpedo gunner whose coat shows enough medals to reach across his chest, returned to this city with a couple of fifteen-cent towels in his handbag. Upon the discovery of loss of the towels, Proprietor Joseph White of the Mizpah hotel let out a yell for the police and was said to have asked to have a man sent down here and arrest Yeager.

Mr. Yeager was seen about it. "Now, isn't it perfectly absurd that a man who has done his nineteen years in the navy and is about to retire would besmirch his record by taking a couple of cheap hotel towels when the navy issues all that is required of them and of a far better quality?"

"Well, I got the wires working to Washington and sent them a hundred words asking for help," said Yeager. Just wait a day or so; something is coming out that will be more than a curtain raiser."

SENTIMENT, HE SAYS.

Mary Pickford may have been just a little bit sentimental when she came to Douglas county to secure her divorce. Douglas is the given name of Fairbanks, and you have all read what the papers have had to say about these two screen stars—Gardnerville Record-Courier.

AMUSEMENTS

NORMA TALMADGE AT THE BUTLER TONIGHT.

A thrilling story, a beautiful and talented star, a splendid cast, excellent direction and some wonderful photography—all go to make up Norma Talmadge's Select Picture, "The New Moon," in which she will be seen at the Butler tonight. It is a story of a Russian princess, Maria Pavlovna, who flees to a neighboring province when her castle is attacked by anarchists, and takes refuge in a small store in the guise of a peasant girl. When the decree is issued, ordering all women in the country to register in order to be nationalized, the princess refuses to register and incites the other women of the town to follow her example. The authorities discover the true lineage of the peasant girl who is leading the women to revolt and try to force her to register, with dire results to themselves. The story, while true of the life of Russia as it exists today, seems more like a fairy tale. The disguised princess, her blue-blooded lover, the revolt, the chase, the capture, happiness for the good people and sadness for the bad ones, all go to make up a story of cold, bleak Russia, warmed by the beauty and intensity of ravishing Norma Talmadge. Added to the feature will be the latest Pathe News. Tomorrow, a special Cosmopolitan production, "The Cinema Murder," with beautiful Marion Davies in the leading role. Monday, "Should a Woman Tell?" Don't miss it.
